

JFK Today

The 2006-2007 school year is rapidly drawing to a close and thus it prompts us to reflect on the past ten months. There have been so many highlights that it is a challenge to focus on only a few. Naturally, each individual here at JFK will have his or her own special memory of the past academic year. For some it will be the winter ski program and standing on the podium proudly receiving a medal. For others it will be the recently completed adventure week on the Ardèche River in the south of France. For many it will be new knowledge, insights and understanding gained in the classroom. For those students new to the English language a magic moment must have been the realization that not only can they speak and comprehend English, but that they are beginning to do this automatically. For me, the choice of a high point is easy this year – namely, the birth on January 3rd, 2007 of Ava Constance Lovell. Ava is the first child of Bryce and Victoria Lovell, the second grandchild and first granddaughter for Bill and Sandy. Ava has already spread much joy to all of us here at school. Clearly, if we had a prize for the most rapid development during two terms at JFK, Ava would be the obvious champion.

Speaking of champions, I would like to express my congratulations to this past winter term's award winners. Academic honour roll status was attained by eleven fine young students, namely: Caio Castellini, Eduardo Esteve, Alexandre Fischer, Annabel Harding, Ivet Ivanova, Min Hee Kim, Feyona Lohr, Arieh Mimran, Ambra Moore, Shifra Steinberg and Thomas Wolfe. Kennedy School Achievement Awards for excellent effort and achievement in ski school were presented to Celina de Lesseps, Adrien de Lesseps, Tiare von Meister, Shifra Steinberg, Feyona Lohr, Alexandre Fischer, Jaime Barrenechea, Simona Schwizgebel, Kieran McKee, Eduardo Esteve and Ryuji Kumasaka. This year's awards for outstanding performance in ski racing went to Caio Castellini, Alistair Cortes and Melville McKee. The Willy-Benz Matti Ski Trophy for overall excellence in skiing was presented to Arieh Mimran. The coveted JFK Distinguished Skier Awards were awarded as follows: Munkh Khorolsuren - best beginner, Kamalei von Meister and Mitch Khorolsuren - most improved and Ambra Moore for all-round excellence.

Turning to the final term of this school year, it has truly been a stimulating nine weeks. Two of the many highlights have been our spring overnight trips and our annual oral communications presentations, which were of a very high calibre throughout the school. Congratulations to the following 2007 class champions: Sveva Fossati, Ambra Moore, Min Hee Kim, Velo-

Vincent van Houden, Alexander Egger, Charlotte Rupp, Shifra Steinberg, Gregory Boo, Arieh Mimran, Nicolas Tritten, Eduardo Esteve, Sebastian Lowe, Jessica Cooper, Jean-Baptiste Hakim and Ryuji Kumasaka.

There is always some sadness mixed in with all the wonderful memories as the school year draws to a close. This is because of the inevitable good-byes that must be said. Ms. Anne Marie's decision to move to Zurich after 6 years of fine contributions to JFK will take some time to get used to. Her dedication, knowledge and professionalism have made a lasting impression on our school. Ms. Wilma will also be greatly missed. She has given a wonderful start to the school experience to all children who have been taught by her at the PLC. Ms. Lysandra is returning to the UK after very successfully replacing Ms. Victoria during her maternity leave. My thanks to these three excellent professionals!

Finally, we wish to extend our best wishes to our graduating group of eighth grade students - Jaime Barrenechea, Jeremy Cnudde, Jessica Cooper, Jean-Baptiste Hakim, Ryuji Kumasaka, Anastasia Kunitskaya, Karina Kurkayeva and José Rondero Chávez. All of these young people have been accepted into the secondary school of their choice. We know that they have been well prepared and are looking forward to the challenges that lie ahead as they move on to this new and exciting stage in their lives.

In closing, I would like to wish all of you a happy and restful summer vacation - and, to those who will not be rejoining us in September, we wish you the very best in your future undertakings and hope that you will always feel that you are part of the Kennedy School family.

WML

Oma Sandy and Ava

SGIS Swimming Competition

As most of you know, every spring term the John. F. Kennedy School hosts the SGIS Junior Swimming Championships. This year, there were eight schools participating, 24 races and two to four heats per race. On Monday May 14th, the 'Hallenbad' was filled to bursting with all the eager competitors.

The first races started at eleven o'clock and they were all medley relays. JFK didn't do very well in the older categories, but they had a few good results in the younger category. Salman and Caio had very good results and both won medals.

My first race (Melville) was the 50m freestyle I finished in fifth place overall and I was quite happy about it. My next race was the butterfly and I came first in my heat but didn't do very well overall. While I was waiting for my last race, there were some older categories racing and they were very fast. The last few races were freestyle relays. The people on my team were Louis, Annabel, Eduardo and myself. We did quite well in that event - a lot better than the first relay.

Great sportsmanship was shown by all the teams. The International School of Basel came in first and they were very happy about it. I think everyone was pleased with the effort we made - and many thanks to the parents for supporting us and helping out timing. With smiles on our faces, it was easy to tell that we had a great time swimming.

Melville McKee, grade 7 and Annabel Harding, grade 6

Alistair takes off as Dad looks on

Interest Groups

Every Thursday afternoon after lunch we do something really fun - INTEREST GROUPS! Interest groups are an opportunity to learn new things while having fun, trying two of several different activities including archery, biking, 'crafty arts', mosaics, fitness training, gymnastics, diving, collages, and team games.

The interest groups I chose were fitness training and archery. In session one I do fitness training with Mr. Bill. We go to the Move It gym and exercise on a variety of fitness equipment. I like all the machines except one - the one where I need to lie down and push up and down with my heels. In my second session, I chose archery with Mr. Yon. I think archery is really fun and challenging. I get really nervous when Mr. Yon says, "Ready your bow, aim, pull, FIRE!" After much practice, everyone has gotten much better, and most students now hit the target with every arrow.

Archery interest group

With something for everyone, we can hardly wait for our Thursday afternoon interest groups and the next chance to participate in our favorite activities!

Andros Soler-Roig, grade 7

Soccer Tournament

I have always been interested in soccer. Unfortunately, I have never been very good at it. I play defense on the JFK under 13 team, and am coached by Mr. Yon. For me, May 11th was an opportunity to try my best and to display some of my skills.

This soccer tournament took place in Clarens, Montreux. There were 13 teams at the tournament and we ended up in 8th place. The first thing we did when we arrived in Clarens was warm up. Approximately 15-20 minutes later, JFK faced their first rivals, Zug. We lost! After this disappointing start we drew two games, lost one game, and we had a great 2-1 victory against Geneva. We finished tied for fourth in our pool, and so, to determine who we would play in the playoffs, we had a penalty shootout. We won 3-1 thanks to Melville, Duarte, and Louis' great goals. It was the best victory of our day! We were not finished yet, and played our last game against Haut Lac. It was a tough-fought loss, and with our day completed we headed for home.

On our way back to Saanen, Mr. McKee and Mr. Welsh treated us to McDonald's as a reward. We arrived safely in Saanen and none of us regretted having gone to the tournament. Although we lost a few of our games, we all displayed our personal best (especially Ludovic, who played many outstanding games), and were glad that we still managed 8th overall.

Arieh Mimran, grade 6

Biking - the Inside Story

Biking is an interest group offered in our school. We bikers look forward to getting out on the paths around the Saanenland and seeing new sights. Here are some of our best (and worst) moments on biking days:

Ryuji: I like hearing Sebastian's comments and jokes along the route - "Sugar, I need sugar - Ms. Anne Marie give me your fruit bar before I die". He is funny. I did not like climbing uphill on the Alte Strasse behind the Steigenberger and almost falling off a cliff because Karina stopped her bike ahead of me.

Jeremy: I like going downhill very fast. I didn't like pushing Karina's bike up the hill for her. Whew!

JB: I like listening to Sebastian; he is entertaining. His jokes are hilarious. I also like going fast. The worst thing is listening to Ms. Michelle saying "Ha ha, I've got a motor, I've got a motor".

Anastasia: The funniest thing was watching Jeremy push Karina's bike for her. The most difficult thing is going up the hills.

Serena: I like it when everyone has made it up the hardest part of the hill and the girls are all pushing their bikes. The funniest part is that Ms. Michelle is the fastest because she has an electric bike!

Sebastian: I like listening to myself tell funny jokes. My worst moment was when I fell off my bike because JB tried to jump over me!

Min Ah: I like the flats and I liked Jeremy's plan to hide in the field on Karina and Anastasia. We all hid in a field and let them go ahead. When they came back we were all lying in the flowers in a field, and jumped out at them.

Karina: My favorite thing is having Jeremy push my bike up the hills, and my worst thing is knowing I can't bike and have to get Jeremy to push my bike up the hill.

Ms. Michelle Bagnal: My high moment - being one with nature and the nice kids. I am such an obscure person that only the kids understand me. My lowest point was not seeing Ms. Anne Marie fall off her bike and roll under it.

Ms. Anne Marie: My favourite thing is making the kids suffer going up the mountains. They make me suffer all day; it is payback time for me.

The Fun Run - Helping Wamba

Boom - the sound of a pistol shot in the air! Everyone started jogging...people crashing into each other. The students of JFK were participating in the annual Bern Fun Run to help raise money to support a hospital and school for children in Wamba, Kenya. Our school has been donating money to the Wamba community since 1988! This year we raised over 13000 Swiss francs for our various charitable causes. We appreciate your donations!

The day before the Bern Fun Run we received a visit from Mrs. Alison Curtis. Mrs. Curtis showed us a slide show of Wamba including the landscape, the people, their customs and the school and hospital our running helps to sponsor. It is amazing how a little money can go a long way in Africa. Mrs. Curtis has been working in the Wamba community for many years, and she shared with us some information. There are so many kids there that are sick, have no education, and have no toys to play with. There are so many families that don't have enough food for everyone in their families. The amount of food we eat in a day is more than three days' food for a person in Wamba.

The walkers made a contribution too

We're not sure how many people realize how fortunate we are to be living in such a fantastic community and getting almost everything we want. As Mr. Bill said, "You're just lucky". Each day when we come into our school we see the quote "Of those to whom much is given, much is required". This is what we must keep in our minds.

Jessica Cooper and Nastia Kunitskaya,
grade 8
Mitch Khorolsuren, grade 7

The JFK Fun Run Team

My Adventure Week Journal

On Monday the PLC went to Chateau d'Oex. We went to the playground and Andrea, Kiki, Fred and I played tag. On Tuesday the PLC went to visit a farm. It is on the Horneggli in Schonried. We saw some cows. We watched how Mr. André milked the cows. We also saw a goat that got hurt by a cow. She was OK though. On Wednesday June 6th we went to the teepee. We built two teepees with Ms. Eliane. We played some games and we had a little teepee. I built a toilet (but we didn't use it) and I played in the tree house. I had lots of fun. We had teams and I was a chief Indian with Coco. On Thursday we went climbing. We did a via ferrata. We also went on a flying fox. I had fun and the flying fox was my favourite. Then we had some lunch in the park. I have been to that park with Paddy. On Friday Frederic's dad came to show us a combine and different grains. It was good to learn something new. I always want to learn something new in my life. In the afternoon we made t-shirts with marbles and elastics. Ms. Wilma, Ms. Basia and Ms. Natasha put the shirts in onion, coffee and tea.

Alex Scherz, grade 2

PLC preparing to climb the Hornfluh

Swimming

Every Tuesday of the week we go swimming in the Kennedy School. We swim after French and ESL. We leave at 10.15 am when Mr Bryce drives us to the swimming pool in Gstaad. There are 5 or 6 swimming groups for Grades 1, 2, 3 and 4. I am in Ms Lysandra's group with Min Hee, Anthony, Jasmine, Sveva and Tabitha. We work on doing the front crawl and back crawl properly. I like swimming because I love water and I want to know more about it. My wish is to become a champion in swimming, but that means I have got to work hard now. In the Kennedy School we also have swim races. I enjoy swimming in JFK with all of my friends and I already learned a lot of new techniques such as handstands and a flip in the water.

Feyona Lohr, grade 4

Estelle and Kieran - Mountain adventurers

Picasso Exhibition

It was a very cold and foggy Sunday morning on the day of our visit to Martigny and the Fondation Giannada. We all got ready for a very exciting day. On the way down to the museum, we stopped at a very cool place that had a nice beach with a small lake. After eating lunch, some of the boys decided to take a swim in the freezing cold water. They were cold! Finally, we arrived at the museum and began our exploration of the Picasso drawings and paintings. We had a little competition about who could draw the best "Picasso". Some artistic students like Eddy, Adam, Min Ah and Munkhdorj were given a prize for their efforts. After this very exciting day, we returned to the boarding house and fell into a deep, deep sleep.

Shifra Steinberg, grade 4

BEA Bern

On the 6th of May the boarding students and some of the teachers and staff like Ms. Liz, Ms. Tasha, Ms. Anne Marie, Mr. Phil, Mr. Bill and Ms. Sandy went to the BEA fairgrounds in Bern. I went with Ivet, Shifra and Masha. My group first went to buy some candy and after that we went to the "Star Dance" which was a big swing that went really high. I thought that my head was going to fall off. Then we went to a ride called "Shake and Roll." We sat down in our seats and then the ride started to shake and roll, as you can imagine. I felt really dizzy after this ride. After all of this excitement, we took a walk over to the animal petting farm. We saw many different kinds of small animals and it was very special petting them. I felt a lot better. It was one of the best days ever for me as a boarder and it was a really fun day.

Jill Giesner, grade 4

Ardèche Expedition

During the week of June 3rd to June 9th grades three to eight participated in the traditional Kennedy School spring trip program. This year we attended the Village Camps' Ardèche outdoor education program. It was a week filled with different physical activities including canoeing, rock-climbing, caving, the 'Grande Descente' of the Ardèche River and a cultural tour to the Pont du Gard and Avignon. The students were asked to summarise their favorite parts of the trip and what 'life lessons' they learned from this extraordinary experience. Names have been withheld to protect the innocent.

Canoeing is exciting and fun! I was proud that I paddled all the way to the end of the two and a half day Grande Descente. Seeing the younger students get excited about living things and seeing the older students paddle the younger ones down the river was another favorite memory. I really enjoyed the canoeing and the races and being with my canoe partner. I enjoyed the canoeing because it was fun doing something new in my life. It was fun going through all the rapids and having water fights while in our canoes. I learned that paddling down the river for two days is tiring - but that it was very rewarding in the end. I enjoyed swimming in the rapids. Canoeing in the rapids was great because it was like going over mini waterfalls and I got my eyes splashed when I was hot - that was cool! I liked looking at the amazing sights as we paddled through the gorges of the Ardèche River. I enjoyed being on the river with my friends and getting wet. After a long day paddling, I was really hungry and the food tasted even better than normal. During the Grande Descente, I learned how to work together with my partner and together we had a great time, especially when we jumped out of our boat into the eddy. It was one of the best days in my life! I will never forget this experience.

I liked the experience of sleeping in tents for once in my life. I loved rock climbing for the feeling of being up high and the amazement of my achievement. I liked looking off from the cliff face. I learned how to belay climbers and not to be afraid of heights. Caving was my favorite memory because of all the different chambers that we crawled through and one does not have many chances in life to go into pitch darkness. It was interesting being in the cave without the senses of sight and sound when we tried to be quiet for as long as we could in total darkness. I learned that our minds try to make connections all the time and sometimes it plays tricks on us like when we "thought" we saw the outlines of our hand in front of our faces even though we really couldn't see them. I really enjoyed getting muddy in the cave and that this mud was thought to have cleansing powers in the past. Nothing like a free facial! I learned about stalagmites and stalactites and how they grow one centimeter every one hundred years. When these two join together, a column is created. I was amazed by how long it takes them to grow.

I learned how to step over my fears and dislikes, how to help others in need and how to give advice and cooperate as a team. You don't have to be afraid of rapids and capsizing and you don't need to be afraid of wild boars. I learned how to work in a team, how to canoe and that sleeping in nature is a good experience. I learned how to live in nature and that nature is not so bad - it's even cool. I learned how to stretch my comfort zone and how to grow as a person. Learning about other people and getting to know the counselors was an exciting part of the experience for me. I learned how to get along with people that I normally don't get along with. Even though I missed my family, I enjoyed being with my friends and they helped me to feel better. I learned that you should always be positive even when it is not your favourite time. Being in nature all day long is fun and it doesn't even matter if you get dirty. I learned that it is important to listen carefully to the instructions because generally they are for our well-being and help keep us out of trouble. Working together as a team in a canoe makes it possible to accomplish the experience. We must help each other through difficult experiences in life. When I got home I realized how much I had and I learned that I shouldn't be spoiled because many people don't have what I do. I learned that I appreciate great beauty all around me. Life is beautiful, you are too, and helping others to see this is what I like to do!

Grades 3 to 8

Shooting one of the many rapids on the 'Grande Descente' of the Ardèche River

Reflections: In Memory of Hans Büker

After writing and reflecting on the thoughts of Yehudi Menuhin from the local "Philosopher's Way", some students wrote their ideas about the 'meaning of life'. These philosophies were discussed after we heard the tragic news of the passing away of Hans Büker, the grandfather of Thomas and Niklas Wolfe. We were amazed at how accurately many of these philosophies portrayed the life of Mr. Büker. Our heartfelt condolences go out to their whole family. Here are the thoughts of three students.

"A way of life which excludes the realm of the unknown and mysterious is simply not in harmony with life itself." It all happens in life - people die and people live. When people die, that does not mean that they are gone forever. Because when you die, you will see the people that died before you and who are now in heaven. But you never know if there is such a thing as heaven. We don't know. I am excited to see what heaven looks like but then again maybe there isn't a heaven and we just die in the black and stay in the black. Maybe we are reborn and live another life. But then again, you never know. There are so many wonders in life, like is God real? You just never know.

Charlotte Rupp, grade 4

"Life itself is our sculpture. Whether for the good or bad, we are carved and moulded into a particular shape, otherwise we would remain blocks without a base." I think that it is good to be yourself and nobody else, just yourself. People that die are people that are made new again. They will never be forgotten because they are now a part of the earth. People will always be remembered for what they did while they were alive on this earth. That way people can live forever.

Giovanni Pullini, grade 5

"Our life must have an aim, but we must ensure that the direction we take is a good one." It is just like Hans Büker flying in his hot air balloon. He goes in the direction that the wind is blowing but also he can use his knowledge of all the different wind patterns in order to direct his balloon to a safe landing area.

Alexandre Fischer, grade 5

Study Tips

Do you have difficulty studying? Are your test scores going down? I'm going to give you some tips to use to help you get good results.

Getting Started:

- Set yourself a fixed time to study.
- Make it efficient with no disruptions.
- Get organized, make sure you have everything you need before starting.

Essential study tips:

- Don't practice mistakes; if you're not sure, look up the correct form.
- Short but regular periods are much more effective than one long period right before your test.
- When you are studying vocabulary or spelling, repeat out loud or write down the words.
- You should start studying soon after you have learned a topic in class, or else you will not be able to remember all that you learned.
- Study with a partner or ask a friend to test you for 10 minutes.
- The more you learn, the more you have a feeling of success!

Things to note in class or at home:

- Make an outline.

- Do one page for notes and use the opposite page for asking yourself questions about the information (this will help you study).

I hope that these suggestions help you do better on your tests!

Eddy Esteve, grade 7

Book Review

Today I am reviewing a book called Bringing Down The House written by Ben Mezrich. It is an extremely heart pounding book that makes you want to keep on turning the pages until it's finished.

The basic story line is that a couple of kids from M.I.T learn a way to gain millions of dollars in Las Vegas by developing a counting system which basically means that you will almost always win in blackjack. The story line circles one boy called Kevin Lewis. He becomes a member of the group and learns the skills. They go to Las Vegas and for the weekend they become high rollers. They have a good time. After a year or two, the Feds (as in FBI) start to catch on to what they are doing so they have to change their appearance and become different people. Do they do it and make it big? Or don't they? Read the book to find out! I would give this book five out of five!

Ludovic Storm, grade 7

It's Time Somebody Told Me

It is time somebody told me that I am a hard worker
It's time somebody told me that my beautiful, blue eyes are as bright as the sun and that my heart is filled with light
It's time somebody told me that my eyes are brilliant like two snowflakes in a winter fresh snow
It is time somebody told me that I am beautiful and that I am the loveliest girl in the whole world
It's time somebody told me to clean my room, eat my breakfast, brush my teeth, take a shower and go outside
It's time somebody told me not to be shy
It's time somebody told me that I can be nice, funny and smart
It's time somebody told me that I am sharp in math, my French written work is good and that I am especially good philosophically

It's time somebody told me I am good at drawing, painting, building, playing soccer, baseball, basketball,
football, tennis and laser tagging, etc....
It's time somebody told me that I am the best sister in the world and that my mom and dad would tell me that I am the best daughter and that my teacher tells me that I am a really good student and that my friends tell me that I am a good friend who is nice and kind It's time somebody told me that I am the best in sports and that I am very nice and very funny It's time somebody told me that I am good in art and music and that I am a good friend
It's time somebody told me that I am wonderful inside
It's time somebody told me to finish this poem
It's time somebody told me to enjoy the fruits of my labor, to eat drink and be merry in this blink of an eye that we call life Mr. Kevin's Class, grades 4 and 5

Who's Bad? Sinbad! A Narrative Poem

IPC Unit - Legends, Myths and Beliefs

A noble prince and a priceless treasure
A black-hearted thief
Let the games begin, it's time to get rich
Did you see that last move? Nope
Don't you think you overdid it just a bit?
Let's get a move on, there are places to go, stuff to steal
Wait, what the...The Book of Peace
Heard about it, read about it, Never actually seen it
Hello Eris, Goddess of Chaos
If you get the Book and bring it to me
I'll give you anything, Okay - sounds good but could you promise
When a goddess gives her word she is bound for all eternity
Hey look, Sinbad is back
He's alive, Pay Up!
But the Book of Peace has been stolen
Eris herself, disguised as Sinbad
Sinbad must go to jail
I demand the right of substitution

Says Proteus, Sinbad's old friend
After sailing through the entrancing sirens
Fighting frozen ice birds while rescuing Marina
Catching a ride on the backside of a giant fish
Flying over the edge of the world
See - I told you it was flat, Pay Up!
Transforming a boat into a flying ship to reach the gates of Tartarus
Don't tell me the realm of chaos is no place for a woman
Hello again, Eris I've come for the Book
That you stole and blamed on me
All right, Sinbad, the Book is yours
One question you must answer, speaking the truth
from your heart
If you don't get the Book back, do you return to Proteus and die in his place or sail away
Free to Tahiti and on to Fiji?
What will it be - your life or your freedom?
Good question, the game is over
Sinbad speaks the truth. Do you?

Gregory Boo and Linus Fehr, grade 5

Treehouse Lunch

The treehouse luncheon at Simona's was a great outing for the PLC students. The reception children wrote brief recounts of their experience.

Estelle: I liked climbing up the ladder and I liked climbing up the other ladder. I liked the spaghetti and I liked the treehouse. I ate with my friends.

Alessandro: At Simona's treehouse I ate pasta. I played with the pulley and played with my friends. I did go to the outhouse. I did go to the top and we ate the dessert.

James: Simona's treehouse was nice and it was fun and we liked it. I liked the pasta. The treehouse was big, long and tall. I played in the swinging chair.

Dashka: At Simona's treehouse we played games in a forest. We pretended there were guards, the queen and the princess.

Simona: At my treehouse, my mom made spaghetti. Everybody wanted to climb up the ladder and get to the very top of the treehouse.

Sabrina: I went to Simona's treehouse and I had lots of fun. The treehouse was big and we had for lunch spaghetti. First I got salad and then I ate my spaghetti.

Enjoying the balcony on Simona's treehouse

PLC Track Meet

On Wednesday May 30th, 2007 we had a Track and Field Meet with the PLC. We did long jump. The long jump was hard. I got 2nd place, Alex got 3rd place and Jasmine got 1st place. We had the meet at the Saanen school. We also ran 200m. Mr. Jack gave Alex and Jasmine a lollipop because they won. We did a 50m sprint. I came in 3rd place in my group. We also did shot put. I was good at it. I liked the Track and Field Meet because it was fun.

Andrea Tritten, grade 1

Road Safety

On Wednesday May 23rd, 2007 a policeman came to the PLC to visit grades 1 and 2. James and Sabrina were also there. We learned about road safety rules. Then we went on the road one by one. We learned to cross safely. Then we went back to the PLC with our partners. We crossed the road again with our partner. We had to stop and look left and right. The policeman was a nice man. He gave us a book to keep. Then we sat on the floor and at the end he gave us a sticker.

Alessio Adamo, grade 1

Velo-Vincent receives a tip from Officer Zimmermann

Making Pizza

On May 16th, 2007 the grade ones and twos made pizzas. We made the pizzas because we are learning about food groups. We had to make pizzas that used all four food groups. This is the recipe for my pizza:

What you need:

- ham
- bacon
- mozzarella
- pizza dough
- tomato sauce

Procedure:

1. Put oil on the little raclette pan.
2. Put the pizza dough in the pan.
3. Put tomato sauce on the dough.
3. Add bacon, ham and mozzarella.
5. Put the pizza into the raclette oven.
6. Wait until the pizza is finished.

Kieran McKee,
grade 1