Overview

At JFK Play School, we offer a high quality childcare centre with a family atmosphere for children between the ages of two and a half and four years. Morning and afternoon sessions are packed with carefully designed learning experiences that create a structured context for each child to develop self-confidence and self-awareness as well as cognitive, social, emotional and physical skills.

Each Child as an Individual

We recognise that each child in our care is unique and we are dedicated to ensuring that children develop the skills they need, as and when they are ready. Each child has a “Unique Child’s Learning Journey” moving with him or her through the age groups. This record contains “snapshots” of activities in which the child has been involved and outlines progress towards developmental mileposts.

A typical Session

Your little one is developing more and more each day. A typical session will include learning and social opportunities like simple addition and subtraction and science, movement and imaginative play with props and dress-up clothes. Much of this will include group play where your child will make friends and learn cooperation and taking turns. The session provides periods of both quiet and active play, structured activities (such as arts and crafts, games, stories and music) and free play, indoor and outdoor physical activities, group activities, including outings and special events, as well as one-to-one interactions with adults.

Curriculum

The earliest years of life are important in their own right and learning at that age should be particularly motivating, engaging and fun, opening up a world of wonder for children where personal interests can flourish. At JFK Play School, we follow the International Early Years Curriculum, which has been specially designed to meet the developmental needs of 2-5 year olds. It supports key areas of learning through age-appropriate, play-based activities and encompasses all curriculum areas, preparing children to move on to the next stage of their education.

Cross-curricular units such as “Dinosaur Detective” and “Ocean Treasures” are based around exciting themes aimed at capturing children’s natural curiosity and laying the foundation for the smooth acquisition of more sophisticated skills such as reading, writing, mathematical and scientific reasoning as well as the social skills required to succeed in later schooling. Children are provided with opportunities to explore and express their ideas in multiple ways, enabling them to develop an increasing sense of understanding of the world around them.
